

In 1973, IBG Canada Ltd. introduced the Rain Screen Principle to skylights and revolutionized the construction of sloped glazed structures.

Developed as an effective, foolproof condensation control system, the Rain Screen Principle, through standardization of all component designs, is easily adaptable to a wide range of skylight applications; and remains effective in even the most severe climatic conditions.

